adfdfadfsafadf. game 1: ogres show up in my presents and own me, game 2: beat first level, game 3: can't figure out what ogres came from my presents and which one i have to kill, game 4: there was no game 4 10/10 would get owned again In all seriousness though: Master difficulty is right, if you're good enough i have no doubt the jester would be a powerful hero, if not the randomness will sink you more often then it helps. Jester Hero DLC love it. Amazingly useful in parties, both of 4 heroes and childerens'. Just. don't place presents near the core. Seeing a large pack of ogres near the core at wave start is not always fun.. The Jester is a great hero, but has his/her limits. The Jester is very great at performing as a run & gun character, but is also not a very good candidate for building towers. Similarly to the Barbarian DLC, the Jester's purpose is as less of a defense creator, and more of a supporting role.. Amazingly useful in parties, both of 4 heroes and childerens'. Just. don't place presents near the core. Seeing a large pack of ogres near the core at wave start is not always fun.. in a game based on skill and planing on paper the jester is by far the worst idea ever. that said a party of 4 jesters or even just one and a normal group make this game so much more fun. who knew haveing to react to something good or bad rather then sitting behind a tower could be so much fun! and to be honest 4$ for this is a JOKE! haha jesters.but really id pay 10$ in a heartbeat..
