Learning Tools For OneNote

Provides users with the ability to read out loud any note or text in OneNote through Microsoft's Immersive Reader Aside from text-to-voice support, the Immersive Reader is also able to spot, mark, and change bold, italic, and underlined fonts and text. The tool can be installed on up to five devices The Learning Tools add-in for OneNote allows users to download new voices, change the reading speed, change text size, and adjust the text background, text color, and letter spacing, the kind of text that can be handled by the Immersive Reader, and the set of voices used to make the reading. Adding new voices, deleting current voices, and recording a voice Adding new voices to OneNote requires a download from the Microsoft Store. As for deleting a voice, the user can choose to delete the voice and add an entirely new one. For recording a voice, the add-in requires a microphone. Dictation in OneNote The Dictation feature allows its users to record directly into OneNote text. This, of course, only works when the Learning Tools add-in is present on the computer, as the microphone is required in order to record audio. Dictation of OneNote documents is available only in English, while users can choose their preferred voices for recorded audio. Adding new languages Even though OneNote's dictation tool is limited, the Learning Tools add-in is able to import new languages, such as German, Spanish, and French. To add a new language, the user should copy and paste it from a file stored on OneDrive, and then import it to OneNote, which can be done through the Learning Tools add-in. Moreover, note that the voice used to read out the text is also imported. Removing voices The Learning Tools add-in for OneNote is able to remove existing voices by right-clicking on a note and selecting 'Remove voice'. Confirming a record The user can confirm a recorded audio by selecting the 'Yes' option. This way, the recording will be deleted from the add-in's voice store. Smart Keywords The Learning Tools add-in for OneNote has the ability to recognise keywords. Some of these include the following: the first letter of a note or a set of notes (Word first, paragraph first, Page first, and Page other) the note's name b7e8fd5c8
